

IB Coursework Deadlines, Class of 2012

All assignments are due by the by the ISP deadlines set out below. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that he/she makes a careful note of the due date for each assignment – for written work and oral presentations – and presents this work on time. IB Diploma Deadlines are placed on the school website, are published internally, are posted in the IB Study Room, and are regularly communicated to the parents. The school will not accept that a student has not been informed of IB coursework deadlines.

Students who anticipate having difficulty meeting a deadline must see the teacher well before the due date to discuss strategies which will allow them to meet their commitments. Students with an absence for the day that an assignment was due must hand in the assignment by email where possible, or on their return. They are also responsible for finding out what new assignments there may be and when they are due.

Failure to meet a coursework deadline will result in that student being suspended from class until the assignment is complete.
